Si vous arrivez :

By car

Lausanne can easily be reached from anywhere by road. Using highways A1/E25 or A9/E27, from Geneva, Bern or Lausanne to Neuchatel head south, Lausanne-centre/Malley direction. Leave the highway at exit Lausanne-centre/Malley. At the crossroads continue straight ahead (two-way road) until you reach the Malley roundabout. Follow the signs for "Centre" and then take the first right. You will find numerous parking spaces for your vehicle 200 metres away (avenue de Provence 4 to 20 - 1007 Lausanne), 5 minutes on foot.

By train

Get off the train in Lausanne. At the station main place, cross the road and take the subway until Flon metro station (1 stop). Then take the TSOL (metro west Lausanne). After about 5 minutes away, get off at the station "Malley". Get out the side of the level crossing and turn right. Continue straight ahead for 200 m.

By air

Lausanne is just 40 miles from Geneva-Cointrin International Airport. Arrival Geneva-Cointrin airport We do not organize travel for athletes. It is easier for you to take the train from the airport station to Lausanne-Gare.

Then, depending on the address of your hotel, you can take the metro or buses, or even a taxi (not recommended, it is very expensive).

Travel from the hotel to the competition venue

We advise you to take the metro, as there is a station 200 metres from the Youth Valley Sports Hall.
